Mr. FLEET,

As you have promis'd to be fair, and print on both Sides, do print the following Letter to dear Mr. Whitefield, and you will oblige your humble Servant, D. S.

Dear Mr. Whitefield,

'FOR ſince there are ſo many Folks about you, that I can't come to talk with you, I muſt write 'to you. I am glad your are 'come back; I wanted to ſee 'your dear ſelf again, as well as 'to hear you preach. And beſides I wanted you ſhould come 'to ſtop the Mouths of the wicked Oppoſers, who ſay you were 'glad to get out of the Way, 'that you might not be oblig'd 'to take Notice of the two 'wicked Letters that were publiſhed about you. Dear Sir, 'do own you an't a Churchman, 'but are turn'd Diſſenter, and 'then all the long Letter will 'come to Nothing. You know, 'Sir, there is no harm in changing, when a Body ſees Reaſon 'for it. You muſt do ſomething about it, for a good 'many of your Friends are diſturb'd at it. O, how bold 'have the Oppoſers been ſince 'you have been gone; almoſt 'every Day ſomething or other 'has been printed about you. 'Had but the Money which has 'been laid out to pay wicked 'Papers, been beſtowed upon 'the dear Orphan Houſe, how 'much good might have been 'done! Ay, and the bold Creatures no longer conceal themſelves, but ſet their Names to 'what they write. Beſides the 'letter learned Rabbies of Cambridge, (and you know that Sort 'of People have always been againſt you in every Part of the 'World) eight and twenty Miniſters have ſign'd a Paper againſt you. Dear Sir, the Philiſtines are come out of their 'lurking Holes, and ſet the Battle in array againſt the People 'of Iſrael. O could you with 'an unerring Hand, but ſling a 'ſpiritual Stone into the uncircumciſed Forehead of that ', the Goliah that heads 'their Armies, how ſoon might 'we hope to ſee them diſcomfited, and purſued even to the 'Gates of Ekron! What Names 'have they not call'd you? 'They've call'd you Enthuſiaſt, 'and e'en almoſt Blaſphemer 'They teaze one almoſt to 'Death, wherever one goes. 'They keep telling me you are 'in a Plot with the Jeſuits, 'and they can prove from your 'own Writings that you have 'fought their Battles. Nay, 'ſome of them are wicked enough to laugh at your Sermons, and ſay you told us with 'much Gravity, that JACOB's 'LADDER had got two Ends 'to it. Juſt ſo they ſerv'd dear 'Mr. Moor-d; but for all that 'he keeps his Lectures up yet. 'Ah, Sir don't mind their laughing. Keep your Courage as 'you did at the Glouceſter Aſſize, 'when the Lawyer ſet the People a laughing at you, but our 'Saviour and a Verſe of Horace 'kept you quite eaſy. Fain would 'they diſcourage the Women, 'who you know are your beſt 'Friends, if they fall off all is 'gone, by telling them that St. 'Paul would have the Women 'exhorted to keep at home, and 'mind their Families. But I am 'ſure St. Paul did not mean 'this when dear Mr. Whitefield 'preach'd. But if he did ----- 'Ay, ay, let the hard hearted 'Wretches ſay what they will, 'we will go to hear you preach, 'we will follow you, we will 'come to all your Lectures, have 'as many as you will, the more 'the better; and for my own 'Part, I would go with you 'with all my Heart to Georgia, 'and I know a great many more 'would do ſo too. Do, dear 'Sir, let us have a Journal of 'you laſt Journey, for I long to 'know what paſs'd upon every 'Spot of Ground where dear 'Mr. Whitefield trod.

'I long to write a great deal 'more, but I muſt not take up 'too much of your precious Time 'So I remain, dear Mr. White-'field,

Your humble Servant,

Deborah Sherman.

Boſton, Jan. 9. 1744-5.

Do, dear Mrs. Sherman, forgive my not printing your Letter the laſt Week. I was ſo buſy about Mr. Whitefield's Vindication, that I could not poſſibly do it, and now honeſtly declare, that I would as ſoon print for Him, as for any Man in this Province.

T. Fleet.

LONDON.

Oct. 29 According to Advices from Poland (which come by way of Hamburgh) ſeveral Grandees of the Kingdom have reſolved, of their own proper Motion, to ſet on Foot a Body of 12 or 15000 Men, for the Service of the Queen of Hungary, independantly of any Succours the Republick may furniſh to that Princeſs: And 'tis ſaid there will be a general Confederacy in Caſe the Dyet breaks up without any Effect.

Letters from Leipſick, of the 26th Inſtant, ſay, that the King of Pruſſia arrived the 24th at Prague, and that his Army encamps in the Neighbourhood of that that Place. They, add, that his Cavalry is much weaken'd.

On the 30th, the Treasure taken in the Acapulco Ship by Commodore Anson, was divided amongst the Captors, which amounted to 1711 l each common Sailor's Share, exclusive of the Treasure taken in the South Seas.

Nov. 2 The last Advices from Cologne say, that the Elector has given Orders for raising 6000 Men, which it is said are to enter into the Pay of the Maritime Powers, in order to make a Part of the Army of Observation that is to be formed this Winter in Germany.

The same Letters say, that they have Intelligence from Bohemia, that the Austrians have actually retaken Tabor, Budweis, and Fauenburg, and have made 4000 Men Prisoners of War in those three Places, which they propose to exchange for the Regular Troops taken in Prague.

Her Hungarian Majesty having promis'd to indemnify the Inhabitants of the District of the City of Bregantz, they have begun to cut down all the Trees in the Neighbourhood of the great Roads leading to the Place, in order to render them impassable, or, at least, to prevent the French from bringing any heavy Cannon to force the City to surrender

Admiral Medley's Squadron, that sailed from Portsmouth on Monday last, consists of the Lenox, Monmouth, Hampton Court and Edinburgh, of 70 Guns; the Augusta and Dreadnought, of 60; the Faulkland of 50; and three Dutch Men of War.

Nov. 2. We learn from Frankfort, that a Cabinet Courier had passed that City for the French at Villeurg to demand the immediate March of the Auxiliaries promis'd to the Emperor; which Demand it is impossible the French should comply with, unless they either raise that Siege, or turn it into a Blockade

CHARLES TOWN, March 18.

Just now arrived here, from a Cruize, a Jamaica Privateer, commanded by Captain Hall

Yesterday arrived here Capt Cox from Providence, who (as he came out) met two Rhode Island Privateers going in, with large French Ship laden with Sugars, Indigo, &c which they had taken. One of the Privateers was a Snow, commanded by Capt Morris.

Mr. Timothy,

SIR,

AS the following Lines contain an Encomium in Praise, and a grateful Sense of the Honour due to the Merit, of the brave Captain Frankland (on his late successful Cruize against His Majesty's Enemies, in conquering and bringing in so large and rich a Prize into our Harbour) they must be acceptable to all those, who (like that gallant Gentleman) have at Heart the Welfare, Interest and Safety of this Province In giving them a Place in your next Gazette, you will oblige,

Your most obedient Servant,

WILL ENGLISH.

TO you brave Youth, who justly merit Praise,
An humble Mute her grateful Tribute pays.

VICTORIOUS FRANKLAND, Carolina's Pride,
Welcome, thrice welcome from the Ocean wide;
Pleas'd and transported, we in Crowds attend
And joy thee Home, our Hero and our Friend,
With Laurels crown'd, enrich'd with Gallic Spoils,
The due Reward of all thy warlike Toils.

While you in quest of injur'd Britain's Foes,
Near Cuba fought their Rapine to oppose,
Fortune and Fame presented to your View
A wealthy Ship, mann'd by a num'rous Crew:
Sure of Success, the Gauls, to strike, alond
Command, of their superior Numbers proud.
Superior Numbers British Hearts defy'd,
And British Hearts sure ne'er were better try'd,
Fierce was the Fight, continual was the Fire,
While Glory these, and Riches those inspire.
Now six Score Gauls lay welt'ring in their Blood,
Or dead, were thrown into the briny Flood.
At length, by constant Brav'ry overpower'd,
The Gauls submit, the Gallic Ensign's low'r'd.
Five Britons only found a wat'ry Grave;
For smiling Fortune still protects the Brave.

WHERE'ER the ROSE extends her Canvas Wings,
Glory to thee, Defence to Trade she brings:
With Joy and Wonder we your Deeds behold,
In Action youthful and in Counsel old;
Both North and South your Virtues do display,
And name thee, CHAMPION OF AMERICA.

BY every Chief if Feats like this were done,
Peru and Mexico would be our own.
Their Golden Mountains envy them no more;
They dig the Mine, while we enjoy the Ore.

FRANKLAND, go on, where Britain's Foes you meet,
Attack with Courage, with Success defeat;
Destroy their Hope, and bring their Treasure home,
The sov'reign Power of Spain and Rome
Your MERIT then its due Reward shall meet,
And bravely shine throughout the British Fleet,
When at your Top mast Head Great GEORGE shall rear
The noble Badge of NAVAL HONOUR there
